TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 1.

LOCAL NEWS.

For this district occasional rains, easterly winds, shifting to southerly, stationary followed by a slight rise in temperature.

CUTTING AFFRAY.—Yesterday two youths, Robt. Knox and Ernest Pickin, of this city, aged about 18 years, who are employed in the general office of the Virginia Midland railroad in Washington, got into a little difficulty while in the elevator in the office building in Washington and during the day indulged in offensive remarks towards each other. In the evening the two youths, accompanied by several of their companions, returned to this city on the 6:01 train and when they reached the depot here, Pickin proposed to Knox that they repair to a neighboring alley and settle the affair. Thither the young men, with their companions, proceeded and at once became engaged in a fistfight, in which Knox was getting the better of his antagonist, having forced him against the side of a house, when Pickin drew an revolver from his pocket and cut Knox several times in the face with it, the slashes being quite severe. The companions say they had no idea that the affair would result so seriously and did not know that Knox had been cut till he said, "Boys, he has cut me," when they at once went to his assistance. Pickin then retired and Knox was taken to the drug store of Mr. J. D. H. Hunt. His wounds were dressed by Drs. Klinefelter, O'Brien and Fairfax. One cut extended along the forehead, another over the eye, another under the eye and some others on the cheek. It was at first thought that the cut under his eye would injure young Knox's sight but to-day it was ascertained that this was not the case. The police authorities got out a warrant for young Pickin's arrest, but to-day he gave himself up before it was served and he and the witnesses were recognized by the Mayor for their appearance to-morrow. Knox is quite painfully cut but it is thought that his injuries will not prove serious. The affair created considerable excitement among the relatives and friends of the young men.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—South bound freight train No. 4, on the Virginia Midland railroad, broke through Bannister trestle, about three miles south of Chatham, at 6:40 o'clock yesterday evening. Brakeman E. R. Martin was killed, and the rest of the crew badly hurt. The engine and twenty-five cars are a total wreck. The cause of the accident was the partial burning of the bents of the bridge, the fire having caught from sparks from a preceding train, and the condition of the bridge could not be seen by the engineer of the ill fated train. The crash was distinctly heard at Chatham, three miles from the place of accident, which was one of the most serious that has occurred on the road for a long time. The bridge had recently been rebuilt and was in excellent condition just previous to its taking fire.

Besides Brakeman Martin, who was killed, the following, being the entire crew, were injured: J. G. Johnson, conductor, arm broken; J. McCormick, engineer, bruised about the head and body; H. T. Cresson, brakeman, arm broken; T. Purvis, fireman, slightly bruised; Bartley, brakeman, injured about the head.

The wrecking train was at once sent to the scene of the accident and the trestle will be at once rebuilt, the material for so doing being now on the ground. In the meantime through trains will use the C. & O. and the R. & D. roads.

WILKES STREET.—In referring to the improvement on Wilkes street, noticed in the GAZETTE on Saturday, the Alexandria correspondent of the Washington Star says: "Just before the revolutionary war was begun, Alexandria, which had been so loyal as to name all its streets after kings, queens and princes, took a turn the other way, and named a street after a newspaper man—John Wilkes—who was then in prison in London for an alleged libel on the king. The street, however, did not prosper, for a marsh cut it in twain. On a hill between Royal and Water streets a few dwellings were erected but elsewhere the street was either marsh or fields. Some manufactures were at last established as the marsh was drained—a pottery, a tannery &c.,—which improved the thoroughfare east of Washington street, but west of Washington street a gulley extended, until the Orange and Alexandria R. R. took Wilkes street for its tracks and made an embankment over the gulley. Yet until now the thoroughfare has been unimproved west of Washington street, and for some distance it consists of nothing but the narrow railroad embankment. If the street were improved it would increase fivefold the value of lots there."

THE PROPOSED PARADE.—Committees from the Alexandria Light Infantry and the three fire companies of this city met by appointment at the rooms of the Relief company last night to determine whether or not to have a parade in this city on the 23d of February. After some debate a resolution was adopted deciding to have the parade provided the necessary amount of money to defray the expenses of such a parade should be collected from the citizens. This was agreed to by the committees from all the companies present, except the Hydrantion, which decided not to take part in the parade for the reason that their members were not uniformed and could not make the necessary arrangement for making a creditable appearance in so short a time. Committees for the other companies were then appointed to solicit subscriptions from the citizens and report at a future meeting.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The McDowell comedy company, composed of ladies and gentlemen of recognized ability, presented, for the first time in this city, last night, the English military comedy "Our Regiment." The cast was unexceptionable—the whole company acquitting themselves to the entire satisfaction of the large audience present. There was a completeness and an air of earnestness about the performance that is seldom seen in similar representations in this city. The members of the company seemed to have an intelligent idea that they were upon the stage for some definite purpose. The result was an interesting performance, in which each character strove to give full value to the lines of the play. To-night Canille will be given with a strong cast.

REFORM CLUB.—At a meeting of the Reform Club held last night the following was adopted:

Resolved, by the Reform Club, that they learn with great pleasure, by the recent visit of the Virginia branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in this city, held recently, the co-operation of Mrs. Willard and Mrs. Smith, the great temperance workers, that a branch has been established here of the White Ribbon Club of the world, and we ask the cheerful co-operation of all the ladies in Alexandria in this benevolent effort to break down a habit so disastrous to our community as the drinking of ardent spirits and fermented liquors by a good many of our citizens and young men.

There was no session of the U. S. Courts in this city to-day, and as will be seen the coupon tenders will be heard in Baltimore before Judge Bond.

POLICE REPORT.—Last night was clear & cool with one prisoner and six lodgers at the station house.

The Mayor this morning disposed of the following cases:

Charles Thomas, colored, arrested by Officer Sherwood, for stealing a lot of old brass, was sent to jail for further examination.

Jas. Murphy, arrested by Officer Frank, charged with an assault on a son of Luke Ramey, was discharged.

The case of a young man, charged with cutting a companion, was continued till to-morrow.

A NEW RESTAURANT.—Messrs. E. F. Brown and Alonzo Mills gave a warm reception to their friends last night at the Tontine restaurant, No. 1343 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington. It was the opening of their new restaurant, which, it is expected, will excel all other establishments of the kind in that city. The Tontine has been newly furnished throughout. Messrs. Brown and Mills have hosts of friends in this city who wish them success in their new enterprise.

TRIAL.—Justices Drummond and Wormly, of the county, on Sunday evening held before them Wm. Grimes and Frederick Golden, both colored, charged with assaulting each other in the store of Mr. W. C. Johnston, near Arlington, on Sunday morning last, an account of which appeared in the GAZETTE yesterday. Grimes was fined $2.50 and Golden placed under bond to keep the peace for six months.

THE DAYS' LENGTH.—This morning the sun rose at 7:08, and will set this afternoon at 5:20, giving ten hours and twelve minutes of daylight. On February 23rd the sun will rise at 6:34, and set at 5:52, making the day's length eleven hours and eighteen minutes, a total gain of one hour and eighteen minutes in a month of twenty-eight days, against forty-four minutes in January of thirty-one days.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to Thomas Johnson and Susie Mitchell, both of this city, and to Alfred West, of Pennsylvania, and Josie Adams, of this city.

The entertainment to be given by the ladies of Grace Church next week promises to be one of the grandest affairs ever presented in Alexandria. The Opera House will be refurnished and repaired by that time, and with its proposed new arrangement will lend much to the beauty of the entertainment. There should be a large audience.

Flocks of wild geese have been flying southward during the past few days. This is considered an indication of approaching cold weather.

To-morrow will be ground hog day.

Mrs. Mary Murphy of St. Louis, who claims to be 100 years old is now cutting four teeth. She says that her mother lived to be 112 years old, and cut an entire set of teeth one year before she died. Mrs. Murphy's mind feels the stress of her many years, but her appetite is unimpaired.

"I do not like thee, Dr. Fell. The reason why, I cannot tell."

It has often been wondered at, the bad odor this oft-quoted doctor was in. 'Twas probably because he, being one of the old school doctors, made up pills as large as bullets, which nothing but an ostrich could bolt without nausea. Hence the dislike, Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pills" are sugar-coated and no larger than bird-shot, and are quick to do their work. For all derangements of the liver, bowels and stomach they are specific.
